AAHHE proudly announces the
2016 AAHHE/USDA-NIFA/TAMUCC Outstanding Thesis Competition

This competition is open to any U.S. Citizen or U.S. Permanent Resident Hispanic who has completed a thesis that focuses on Food and the Agricultural Sciences, between December 2013 and August 30, 2015. Theses are eligible if they are in domains related to the USDA priority areas, including; Food Safety, Climate Change, Sustainable Energy, Childhood Obesity, and Global Food Security and Hunger.

The top three winners will be invited and sponsored to attend the 11th Annual AAHHE National Conference (March 10—12, 2016) in Costa Mesa, California to present their theses and receive their award, as well as possibly participate in a Career Preparation Institute (March 9-12, 2016).

The first place winner will receive an award of $3,000, the second place winner will receive $2,000, and the third place winner will receive $1,000.

Please share the attached thesis guidelines with faculty, colleagues, recent master-level graduates and current candidates who are eligible and encourage them to apply!

For additional details concerning the requirements and regulations, please refer to AAHHE website: www.aahhe.org

Go to the main page of the AAHHE website (www.aahhe.org), click the Outstanding Thesis Competition button on the left-hand side, and click the link at the top of this general info page that reads Thesis Guidelines.